Education

Build a Knowledge Community

Unite staff, maximise engagement and convey key messages in a digital space with Oak Engage.

In education, time is precious. With clashing schedules and timelines, it isn't always easy to spend time with your colleagues or keep up to date with the latest news.

Oak Engage provides spaces not only for collaboration and cross-department communication in a virtual setting, but also socialising and building communities. Oak provides a unique and intuitive employee experience that can be used by all employees.

Social Intranet

Bring People Together

Paving the way in the evolution of intranets, social intranets offer a range of tools that allow for two way communication and real employee interaction. Having an interactive, digital workspace makes employees feel involved, connected and gives them a sense of belonging.

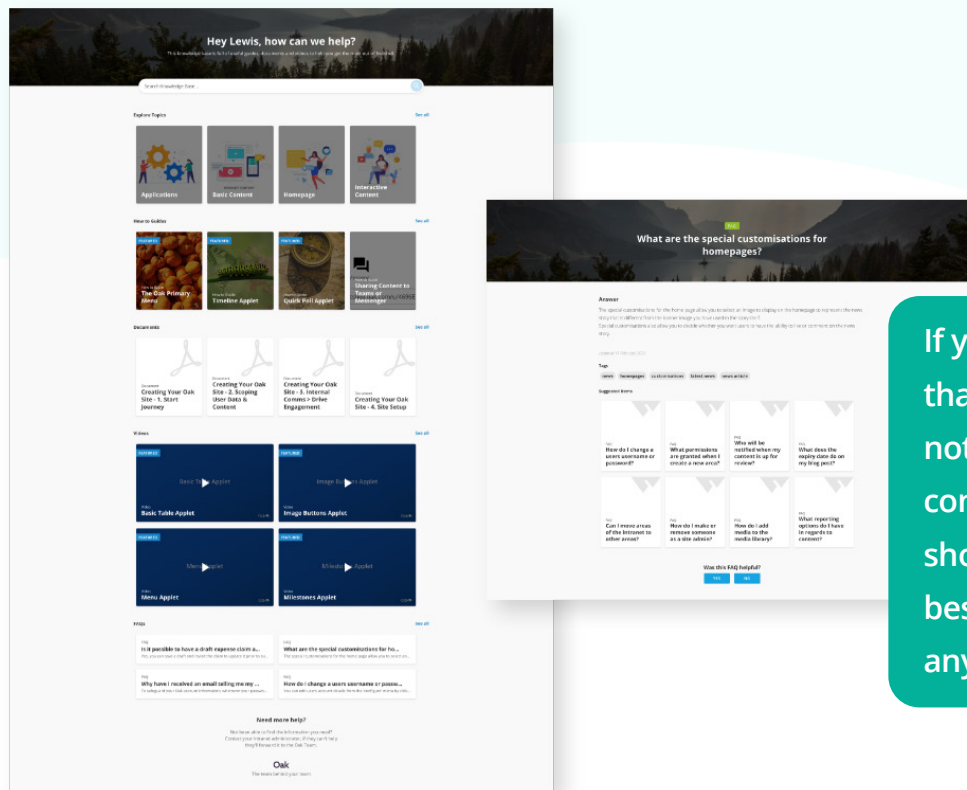

Oak's social intranet provides spaces for employees in education to engage with social content and connect with each other. Social timelines allow users to post and interact with content tailored to them, whilst community hubs and Smart Delivery give people a space to interact with like minded people and content that's relevant to them.

Collaborate

Share Content & Knowledge

Knowledge is power and it's even more powerful when you can share it with ease. Oak has a range of tools that allow you to create an environment that helps employees continuously learn whilst providing them with the information when they need it. It's simple and easy to navigate.

If you use a range of different channels and are worried that it might become stressful for people then you need not worry. Oak merges seamlessly with any third party content source so your intranet can be your one stop shop for all things content and communication. The best part is, you can share and access content anytime, anywhere from desktop or mobile.

Connect

Access Anywhere

Working in education can mean that people are here, there and everywhere which can sometimes make it difficult to access information and reach the people you need.

Oak's mobile app means employees have all the features of their intranet at their fingertips and can receive urgent updates via push notifications. Send relevant updates to specific departments or individuals, share company updates and populate a real world timeline. With Smart Delivery you can connect workers with the content relevant to them.
